

The Gospel in a Pluralist Setting

Acts 14:8-28

“They preached the good news in that city and won a large number of disciples...”. (Acts 14:21)

In this section of the book of Acts the audience changes. Before the audience has been mainly Jews and proselytes familiar with the teachings about God. Here the audience is people who have never heard and are still following Greek pagan religion. This makes this account relevant to our context and in it we can see four important subjects related to effective gospel ministry in a pluralistic setting.

1. The importance of the _____ . (Acts 14:15, 21)
