

Questions for Individual or Groups:

1. What stood out to you about the message?
2. Is change hard or easy for you? Why?
3. What kind of change have you found most difficult—personal, societal, circumstantial, or other?
4. Read Ecclesiastes 3:1-14. The “teacher” reminds us that we can’t know everything, nor can we control everything. What is your reaction to this?
5. What are areas or circumstances you find yourself trying to control? Was trying to control this situation helpful? Why or why not? Is there a way to know when we should try to control and when we should accept things?
6. In the message, Pastor Kory said Ecclesiastes 3 teaches us
 - 1) To appreciate all of life as a gift from God
 - 2) To do good regardless of our situation
 - 3) Remember that God understands and controls and is with you

How do these three principles help us manage change in our lives?

7. Which of these three principles would help you embrace or navigate change better in the future? Which is most timely for you right now?

The Struggle with Change

Many historians tell us the _____ of change has grown exponentially today.

- _____ changes.
 - Foundational institutions are falling
 - The pace of life is accelerating
 - The moral landscape
- _____ changes.
 - Our bodies age
 - Physical attractiveness wanes
 - Family can bring joy or struggle
- _____ changes
- _____ change
 - Job
 - Finances

